Independent Auditor's Report to the Trustees of The Estate of the Late Edith Collier

Report on the Audit of the Financial Report

Opinion

We have audited the accompanying financial report of Estate of the Late Edith Collier (the "Estate"), which comprises of the statement on financial position as at 30 June 2025, the statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income, statement of changes in trust funds and statement of cash flows for the year ended on that date, and notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies, and the trustees' declaration.

In our opinion, the accompanying financial report of the Foundation, is in accordance with the Australian Accounting Standards (including the Australian Accounting Interpretations), and Div 60 of the Australian Charities and Not-for-profits Commission Act 2012 (the "ACNC Act") including:

- (i) giving a true and fair view of the Estate's financial position as at 30 June 2025 and of its financial performance for the year then ended; and
- (ii) complying with Australian Accounting Standards and the Australian Charities and Not-for-profits Commission Regulation 2022.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Report section of our report. We are independent of the Estate in accordance with the auditor independence requirements of the ACNC Act and the ethical requirements of the Accounting Professional and Ethical Standards Board's APES 110 Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (the Code) that are relevant to our audit of the financial report in Australia. We have also fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the Code.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Other Information

The trustees are responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the Trustees' report included in the annual report, but does not include the financial report and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the financial report does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the financial report, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial report or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Trustees' Responsibilities for the Financial Report

The Trustees are responsible for the preparation of the financial report that gives a true and fair view in accordance with the Australian Accounting Standards and the ACNC Act and for such internal control as the Trustees determine is necessary to enable the preparation of the financial report that gives a true and fair view and is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial report, the Trustees are responsible for assessing The Estate's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the trustee either intends to liquidate the Estate or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Independent Auditor's Report to the Trustees of The Estate of the Late Edith Collier

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Report

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial report as a whole is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of the financial report.

As part of an audit in accordance with the Australian Auditing Standards, we exercise professional judgement and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial report, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Estate's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the Trustees.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Estate's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial report or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Estate to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial report, including the disclosures, and whether the financial report represents the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- We communicate with the Trustees regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

In accordance with an Order of the Supreme Court, the Estates of the late Annette and Alice Collier were amalgamated with that of the late Edith Collier with effect from 1 July 2005. 2. Summary of accounting policies (continued)

Classification of Financial assets

On initial recognition, the Estate classifies its financial assets into the following categories, those measured at:

- amortised cost
- fair value through Profit and loss (FVTPL)

Financial assets are not reclassified subsequent to their initial recognition unless the Estate changes its business model for managing financial assets.

Amortised cost

Assets measured at amortised cost are financial assets where:

- the business model is to hold assets to collect contractual cash flows; and
- the contractual terms give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

The Estate's financial assets, measured at amortised cost, comprise trade and other receivables and cash and cash equivalents in the statement of financial position.

Subsequent to initial recognition, these assets are carried at amortised cost using the effective interest rate method less provision for impairment.

Interest income and impairment are recognised in profit or loss. Gain or loss on derecognition is recognised in profit or loss.

Financial assets through profit and loss

All financial assets not classified as measured at amortised cost are measured at FVTPL.

Net gains or losses, including any interest or dividend income are recognised in profit or loss.

Impairment of financial assets

Impairment of financial assets is recognised on an expected credit loss (ECL) basis for the following assets:

- financial assets measured at amortised cost
- debt investments measured at FVOCI

When determining whether the credit risk of a financial assets has increased significant since initial recognition and when estimating ECL, the Estate considers reasonable and supportable information that is relevant and available without undue cost or effort. This includes both quantitative and qualitative information and analysis based on the Estate's historical experience and informed credit assessment and including forward looking information.

The Estate uses the presumption that an asset which is more than 30 days past due has seen a significant increase in credit risk.

The Estate uses the presumption that a financial asset is in default when:

2. Summary of accounting policies (continued)

(b) Financial Assets (continued)

- the other party is unlikely to pay its credit obligations to the Trust in full, without recourse to the Trust to actions such as realising security (if any is held); or
- the financial assets are more than 90 days past due.

Credit losses are measured as the present value of the difference between the cash flows due to the Trust in accordance with the contract and the cash flows expected to be received. This is applied using a probability weighted approach.

Other financial assets measured at amortised cost

Impairment of other financial assets measured at amortised cost are determined using the expected credit loss model in AASB 9. On initial recognition of the asset, an estimate of the expected credit losses for the next 12 months is recognised. Where the asset has experienced significant increase in credit risk then the lifetime losses are estimated and recognised.

Financial Liabilities

The Estate measures all financial liabilities initially at fair value less transaction costs, subsequently financial liabilities are measured at amortised cost using the effective interest rate method.

The financial liabilities of the Estate comprise trade payables and lease liabilities.

(c) Furniture and fittings

Furniture and Fittings are carried at cost less accumulated depreciation

Depreciation is provided on furniture and fittings and is calculated on a straight-line basis so as to write off the net cost of each asset over its expected useful life to its estimated residual value. The estimated useful life used in the calculation of depreciation of furniture and fittings is three years.

(d) Income Tax

The Charitable Trust established by the Will of the Late Edith Collier is an income tax exempt charitable entity under the provisions of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997.

(e) Provision for Trustees' Commission

Provision for Trustees' commission is recognised when the Estate has a present obligation, the future sacrifice of economic benefits is probable, and the amount of the provision can be measured reliably.

(f) Goods and Service Tax

Revenues, expenses and assets are recognised net of the amount of Goods and Services Tax (GST), except:

where the amount of GST incurred is not recoverable from the taxation authority, it is recognised as part of the cost of acquisition of an asset or as part of an item of expense; or for receivables and payables which are recognised inclusive of GST.

Cash flows are included in the statement of cash flows on a gross basis. The GST component of cash flows arising from investing activities which is recoverable from, or payable to, the taxation authority is classified as operating cash flows.

2. Summary of accounting policies (continued)

(g) Lessee accounting

The non-lease components included in the lease agreement have been separated and are recognised as an expense as incurred.

The Estate has chosen not to apply AASB 16 to leases of intangible assets.

Exceptions to lease accounting

The Estate has elected to apply the exceptions to lease accounting for both short-term leases (i.e. leases with a term of less than or equal to 12 months) and leases of low-value assets. The Estate recognises the payments associated with these leases as an expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

(b) Fair value of financial instruments

The Trustees consider that the carrying amounts of financial assets and financial liabilities, recorded at amortised cost in the financial statements, approximates their fair values.

Investments other than Cash and Receivables are units in the Vanguard Australian Shares High Yield Fund and Willis Towers Watson Global Equity Focus Fund which are recorded at year end at redemption value or bid price.

The following table provides an analysis of financial instruments that are measured subsequent to initial recognition at fair value, grouped into Levels 1 to 3 based on the degree to which the fair value is observable.

- Level 1 fair value measurements are those derived from quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.
- Level 2 fair value measurements are those derived from inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (i.e. as prices) or indirectly (i.e. derived from prices).
- Level 3 fair value measurements are those derived from valuation techniques that include inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs).

(c) Financial risk management objectives, policies and processes

Risks arising from holding financial instruments are inherent in the Estate's activities and are managed through an internal process of ongoing identification, measurement and monitoring. The Estate may be exposed to credit risk, liquidity risk, market risk, interest rate risk and currency risk.

The Estate was established under the terms of the Will of the Late Edith Collier and the corpus is to remain "in perpetuity" with annual distributions of income. Investments other than Cash and Receivables are units in the Vanguard Australian Shares High Yield Fund and Willis Towers Watson Global Equities Focus Fund.

Credit risk

Credit risk represents the risk that the counterparty to the financial instrument e.g. bank accounts in funds and accounts receivable will fail to discharge their obligations and cause the Estate to incur a financial loss.

Credit risk is not considered to be significant to the Estate as the counterparty is an Australian bank or the Commonwealth of Australia via the Australian Taxation Office (ATO) or Investment income receivable from creditworthy counterparties within Australia.

	2025	2024
Details are:
Bendigo Bank	10,486,092	6,488,432
Income receivable - Investments	4,762,292	3,645,655
Income receivable - ATO	1,149,294	1,160,129
	16,397,678	11,294,216

Liquidity risk

The Estate maintains its cash holdings plus accounts receivable at approximately equal to its accumulated income at all times during the year to enable the Trustees to pay distributions when determined by them.

Financial liabilities

The Estate incurs minor value operating liabilities. These are settled when due.

Market risk

Market risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of the financial instruments will fluctuate due to changes in market variables such as interest rates, foreign exchange rates and equity prices.

Given that the Estate is an "in perpetuity" investor, apart from asset allocation monitoring, no market risk mitigation process is in operation.

14. Financial Instruments (continued)

Interest rate risk

Interest rate risk arises from the possibility that changes in interest rates will affect future cash flows.

Given that the Estate is an "in perpetuity" investor and has no material financial obligations to external parties no interest rate mitigation process is applied, and no sensitivity analysis conducted.

An indicator of the Cash element of interest rate risk is as follows:

	2025	2024
Cash	10,486,092	6,488,432
Interest rate range	0.3% - 4.8%	0.4% - 0%

Currency Risk

All investments and transactions are in Australian dollars.
